

Please stop telemarketers from calling and interfering with home life. People are already too hassled and harried to have to deal with this intrusion on our privacy.